Four men are seated at a long table in a classroom. They are dressed in light blue and white shirts. The man on the far left is looking towards the speaker. The man next to him is looking down at a book or paper. The man in the middle is looking towards the speaker. The man on the far right is looking towards the speaker. There are small floral arrangements and water bottles on the table.

A man with a grey beard and hair, wearing a dark polo shirt and light-colored trousers, is standing at a black podium on the right side of the stage. He is speaking into a microphone. The podium has a small floral arrangement on it.

A group of students is seated in rows of wooden desks in the foreground, facing the stage. They are mostly young women with their hair tied back. They appear to be listening attentively to the speaker.
