They are elegance and splendor of the bygone era. They are the living witnesses of the golden historic era of over a thousand years and of the preindependence battles. They are the most outstanding facets of the multi-faceted Indian culture. They teach us about history and promote respect for those who were real great heroes, who lived in different times and different regions of the nation. They cultivate pride of our past and heritage. They bring character and certain charm to the region. So they must become an inspiration for the future generations. They have always been the illustration of wealth and power of the nation. They are the epitome of courage, they stand testimony to the evolution and are a symbol of cultural expressions and architectural skills. They represent our tradition, history, art and design. They are great attractions for tourists. So the government and the civil society must play a vital role for the conservation and preservation of these monuments and places.

A Report of the National Seminar of "Conservation & Importance of Historically Important Monuments, Places & Documents". (28 & 29 September, 2017)

India has a rich heritage of history. Today the society expects that government must preserve all the precious things like monuments, places & documents, etc. But it is the responsibility of people in general and society, especially of the young generation. The students and scholars of history must create awareness about this among the minds of visitors of such historical places. We must preserve ancient monuments, places and documents. It is a need of today.

The present seminar was divided into 6 sessions. In the second session Dr. Sachin Joshi of Deccan College, Pune, the member of Forts Conservation Committee Maharashtra State, delivered his speech on forts conservation, Peshwai in Pune, Angre, contemporary coins. The third session was of paper reading. In the fourth session Dr. Balkrishna Mali, Dayanand College, Solapur, explained about how to preserve historical documents, etc. In the fifth session Adv. Maqsood Afzal Jagirdar, Afzalpur told about the scriptures of Navrasnama and 'Tarikh-E-Firista' and also about the preservation of the buildings of Afazalkhan in Afalzapur. In the last and the sixth session the Chief Guest Adv. Jagirdar expressed his gratitude for having given him the respect as the Chief Guest of the seminar. Dr. D.T. Shirke, Pro-vice Chancellor of Shivaji University Kolhapur, emphasized the need and significance of this as a Chief Guest of the opening ceremony of the two - day national seminar organized by the Department of History in Padmabhushan Dr. Vasantrodada Patil Mahavidyalaya, Tasgaon (Sangli). Dr. R.R. Kumbhar was the president of this seminar. Dr. Shirke further illustrated the point by saying that the mentality of Indian people is to exchange and repair only the faulty parts and not to change the total thing; they tend to repair or change useless or decayed parts in the house, but not to build or purchase a new house. Similarly, they tend to repair and preserve the rich heritage of Indian history. India is richer and greater than Australia and Canada due to our cultural greatness. The students of the Department of History of this college are going to read their research papers related to cultural greatness and herigate of India. This shows that the centre of merit is in rural India. I have deep respect about this college and its management.
