A Report of the National Seminar of "Conservation & Importance of Historically Important Monuments, Places & Documents".

(28 & 29 September, 2017)

India has a rich heritage of history. Today the society expects that government must preserve all the precious things like monuments, places & documents, etc. But it is the responsibility of people in general and society, especially of the young generation. The students and scholars of history must create awareness about this among the minds of visitors of such historical places. We must preserve ancient monuments, places and documents. It is a need of today.

Dr. R.R. Kumbhar was the president of this seminar. Dr. Shirke further illustrated the point by saying that the mentality of Indian people is to exchange and repair only the faulty parts and not to change the total thing; they tend to repair or change useless or decayed parts in the house, but not to build or purchase a new house. Similarly, they tend to repair and preserve the rich heritage of Indian history. India is richer and greater than Australia and Canada due to our cultural greatness. The students of the Department of History of this college are going to read their research papers related to cultural greatness and herigate of India. This shows that the centre of merit is in rural India. I have deep respect about this college and its management.
